

NanoDays 2011

Report and Survey

<http://www.surveygizmo.com/s3/486130/ND-2011-Report>

Thank you for participating in NanoDays!

We ask that partners hosting NanoDays events report back to the Network about your experiences through this online survey. There are two sections in this survey:

1. A report section, with questions about your NanoDays 2011 event.
2. An information-gathering section, with questions to help us improve kit materials for future NanoDays.

The reporting deadline for NanoDays is May 1. Once you complete the report (on time!), your name will be entered into a drawing for paper fold-your-own buckyball models. Two drawings will be made, and winners will be notified in late May.

The survey takes approximately 15 minutes to complete.

Photos

You don't need to attach photos to this report, but if you have great NanoDays photos to share, call or email Eli Bossin at the Museum of Science: ebossin@mos.org, 617 589 4411.

Please note: to be able to use and share photos of your local NanoDays events, we must have a signed NISE Network release form from each person in the photo. In the NISE Network, photos are often shared and used by multiple institutions, so we need permission for not just your institution to use the image, but also for other institutions in the NISE Net to use the image.

The release form was included in the NanoDays kit and can be found in the nisenet.org catalog as part of the NanoDays Promotional Materials package.

Part 2: Help Us Improve NanoDays

Your answers to these questions help us improve NanoDays and plan and develop future NanoDays resources. We pay attention to your feedback! Information from past NanoDays reports and evaluation has led to changes in the kit activities, supporting materials such as banners and signs, and the kinds of additional resources that the NISE Net provides.

For the following questions, your name and institution will not be associated with your responses in any reporting of the findings, and your responses will not in any way affect your kit eligibility next year. You may skip questions or end the survey at any time by hitting the submit button at the bottom of the next page.

Thank you for taking the time to answer these questions.

How likely do you think your institution would be to use the following educational materials if they were included in your NanoDays kit (in addition to the materials we already include)?

[very unlikely, somewhat unlikely, not sure, somewhat likely, very likely]

- Longer demos and programs
- Unstaffed, simple exhibits and displays
- Educational banners and posters
- Experiences that engage the public in societal and ethical implications of nano
- Videos

Please provide any additional comments about the types of educational materials that would be most useful to you.
